4 main scam classes

Seed phrase compromise

Direct transfers

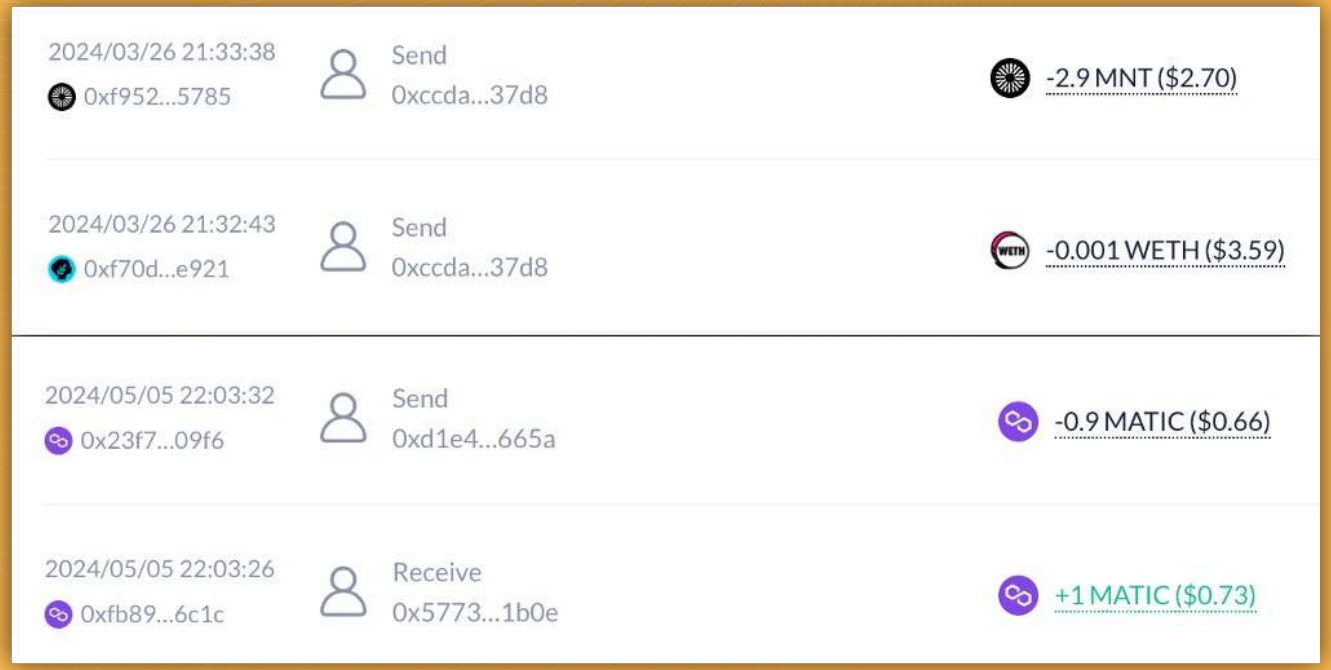

Token approvals

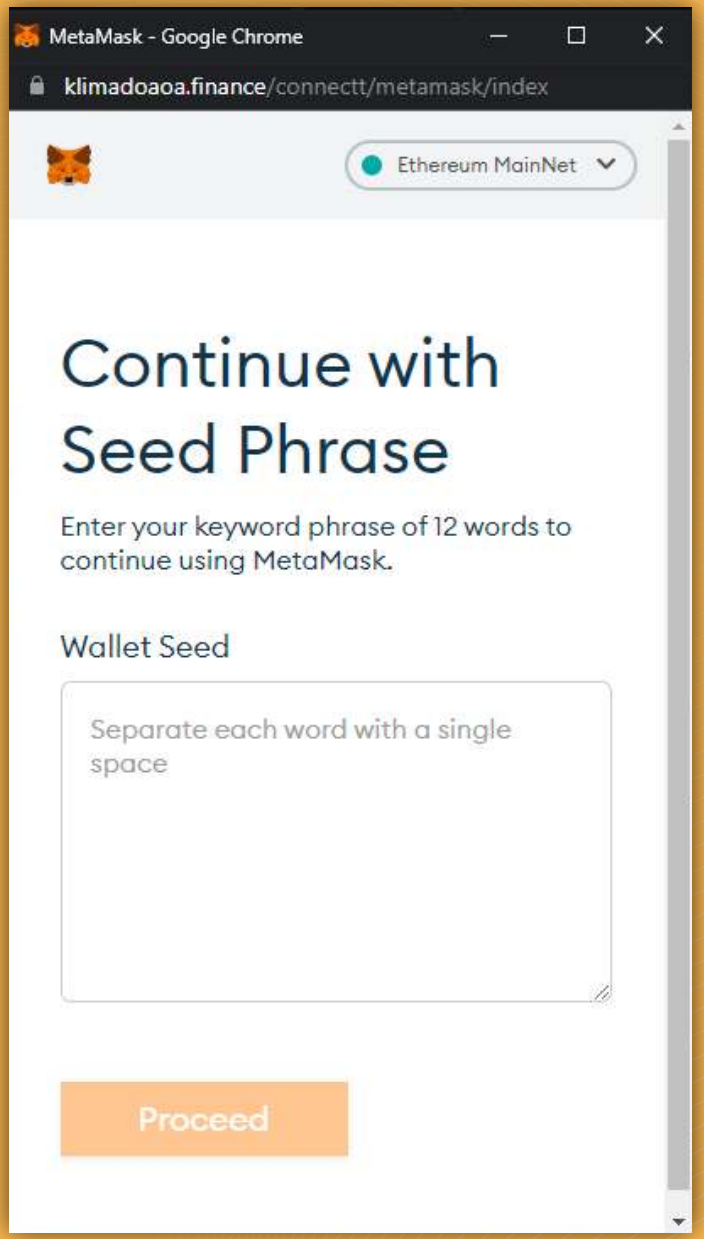

Marketplace signatures

Seed Phrase Compromise

How to diagnose?

- Many assets stolen on multiple networks
- Native token gets taken on deposit

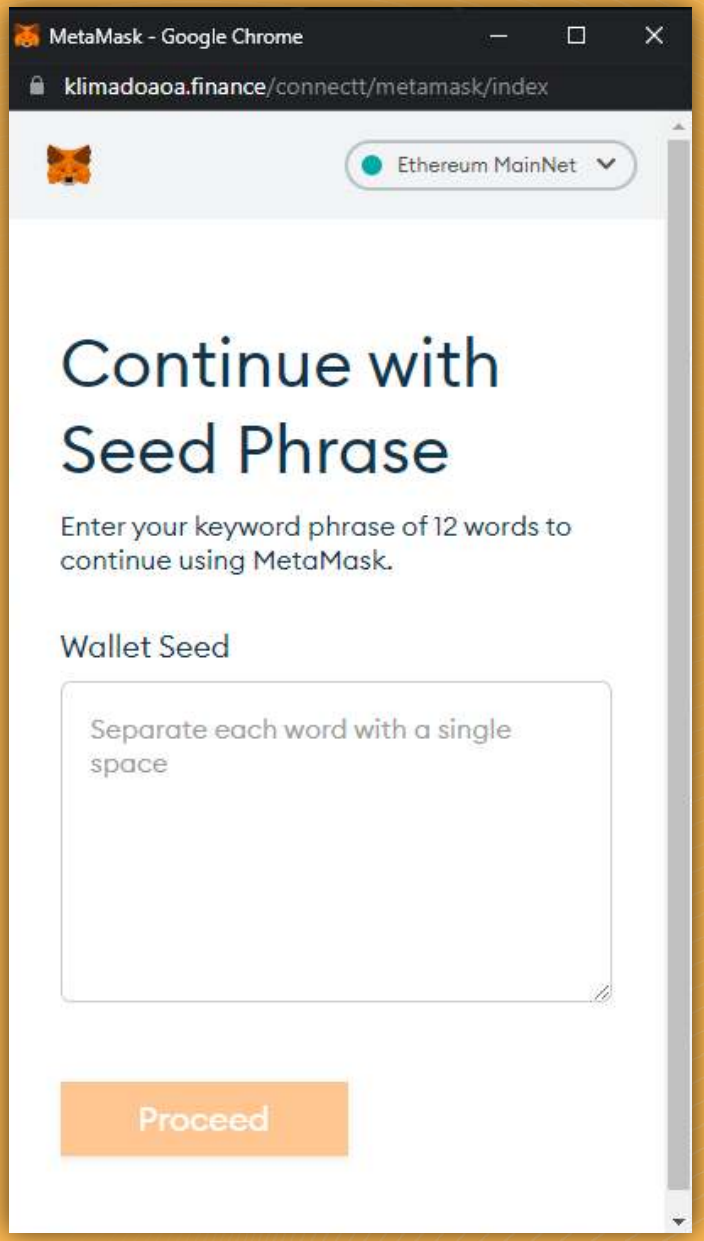

Seed Phrase Compromise

What to do?

- Run a malware check (e.g. Malwarebytes)
- Create a completely new wallet
- Try to rescue any remaining assets

How to prevent?

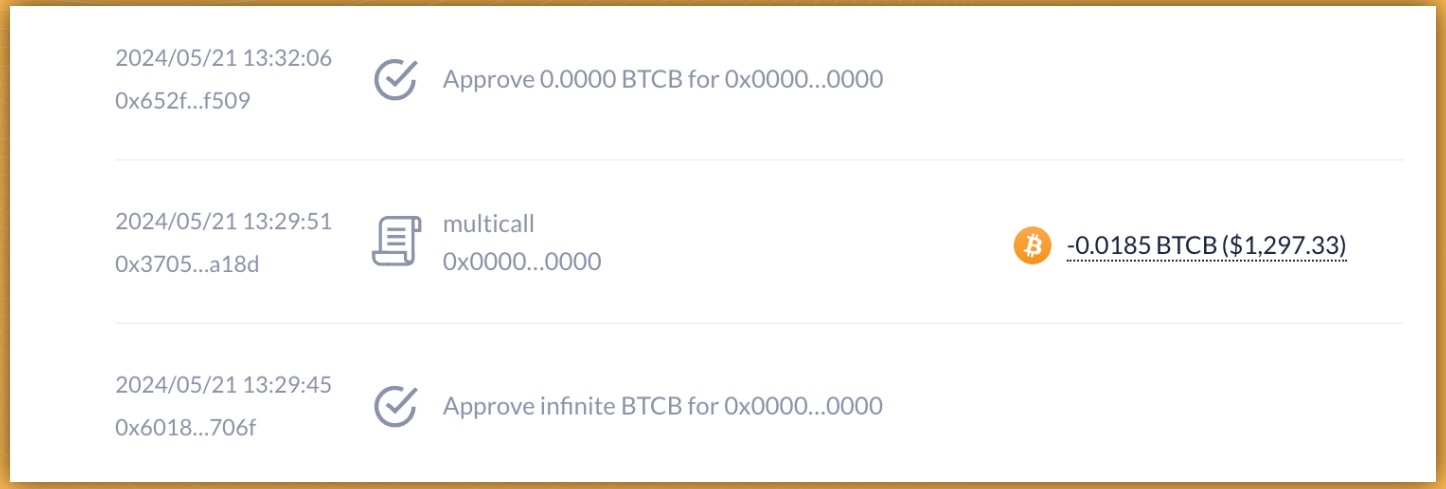

- Use a hardware wallet (e.g. Ledger)

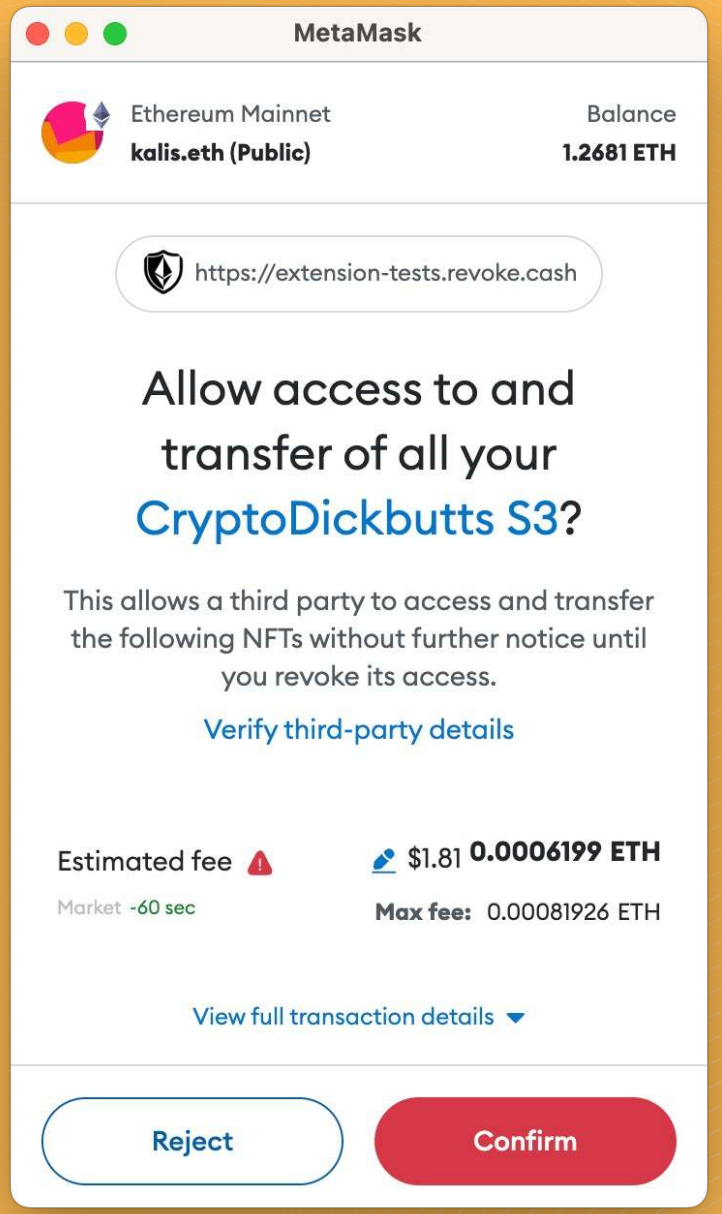

Token Approvals

How to diagnose?

- One kind of asset stolen on a single network
- Recent approvals showing on Revoke.cash

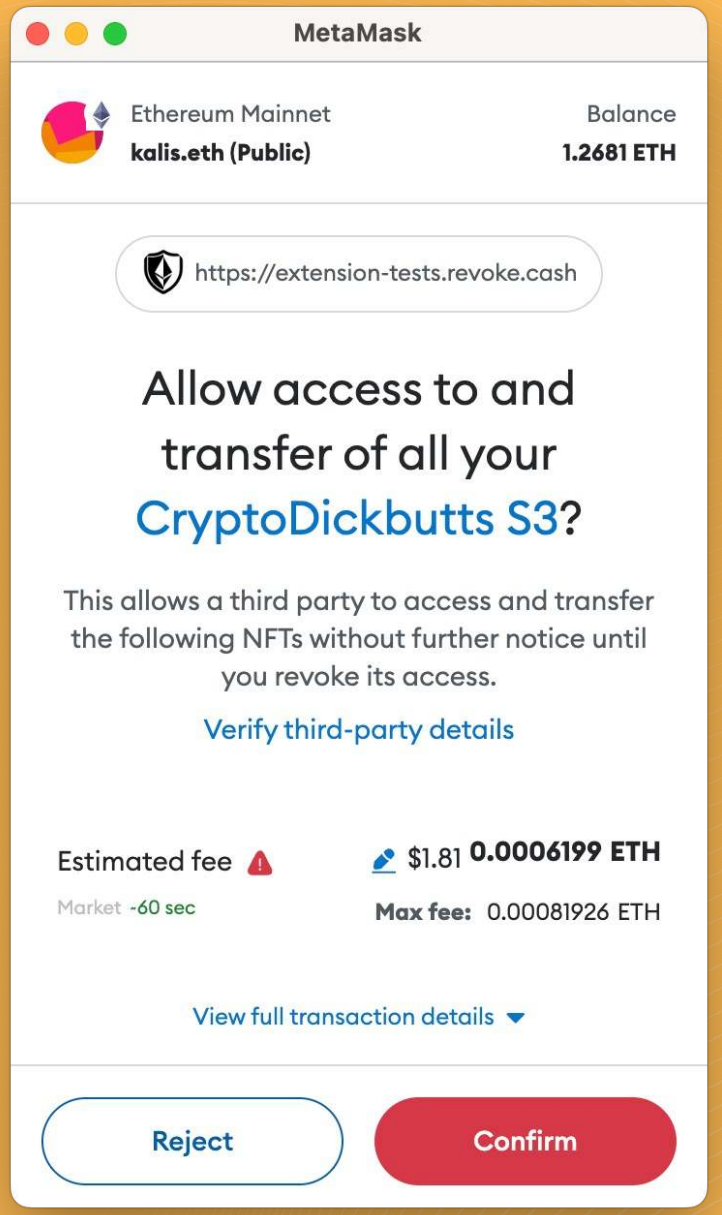

Token Approvals

What to do?

- Revoke token approvals

How to prevent?

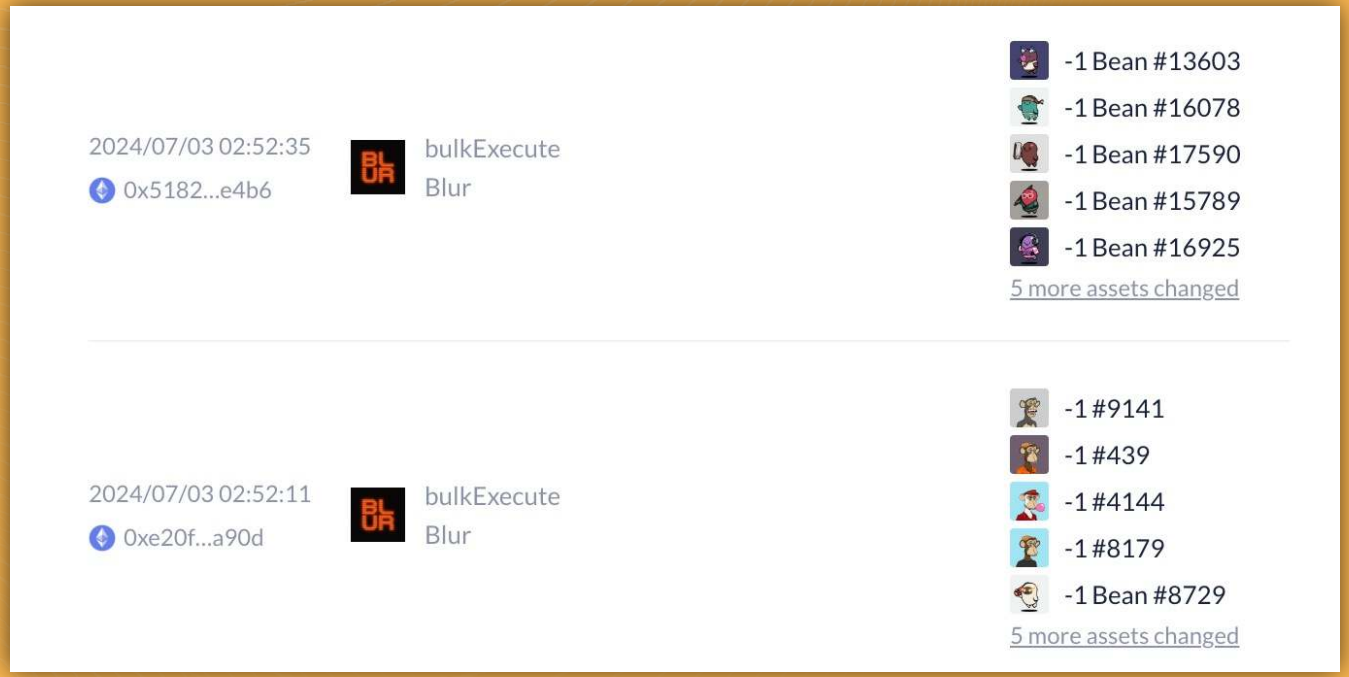

- Double check URL + use bookmarks
- Use security browser extensions

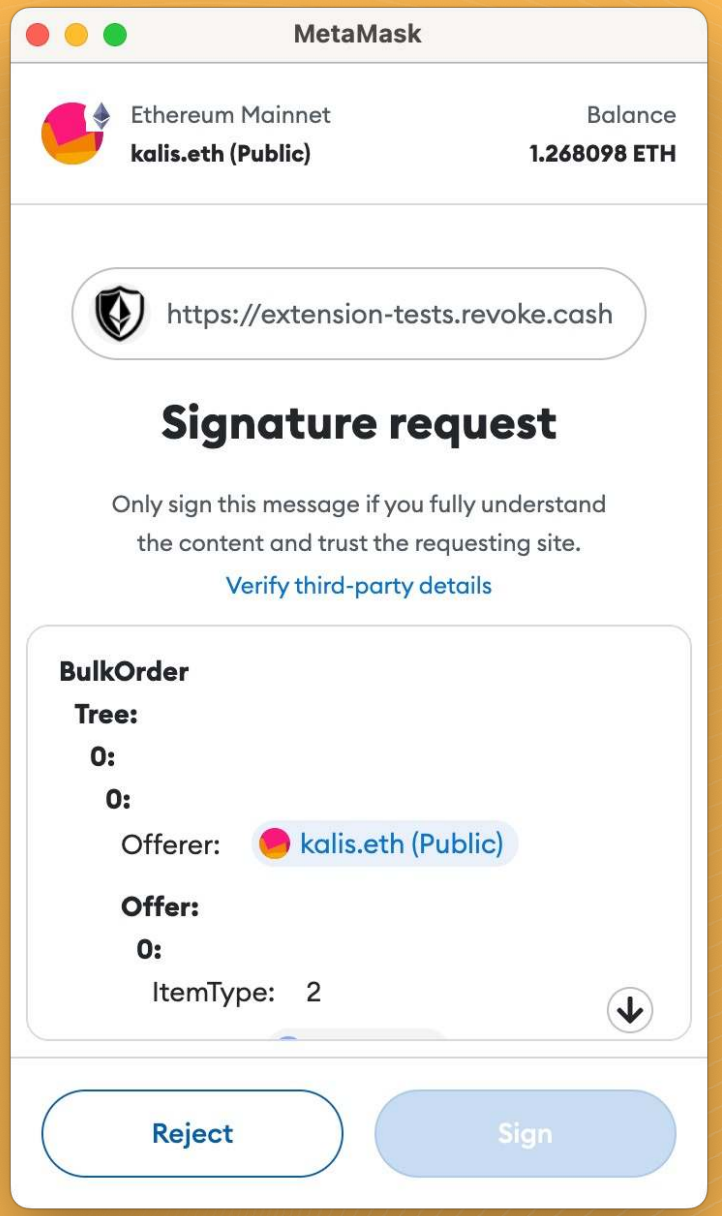

Marketplace Signatures

How to diagnose?

- Multiple tokens / NFTs stolen
- Transaction mentions marketplace name

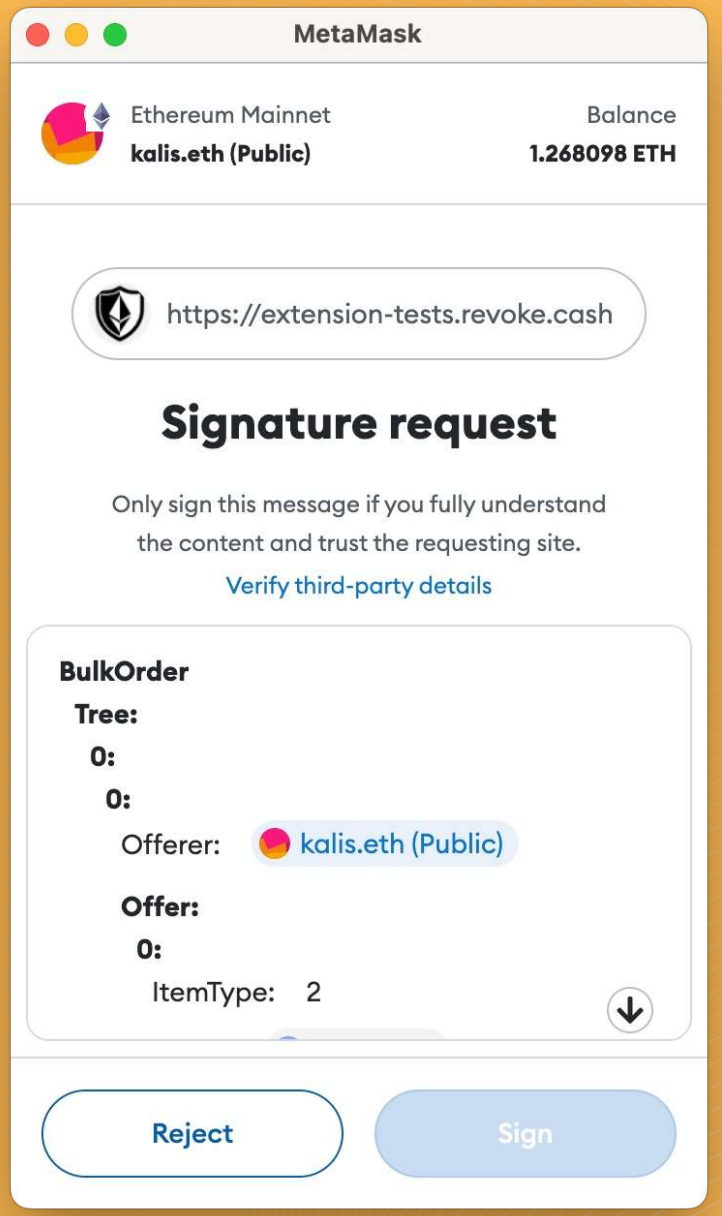

Marketplace Signatures

What to do?

- Continue using your wallet

How to prevent?

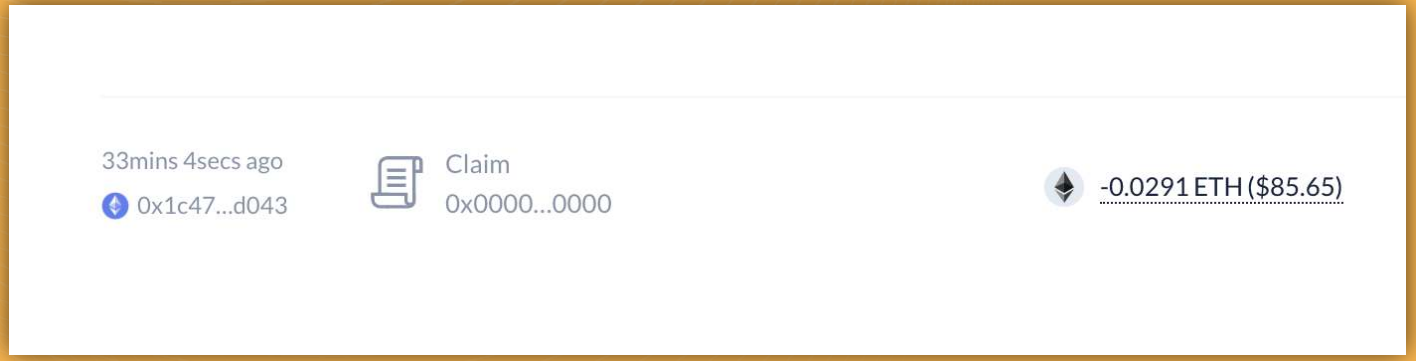

- Revoke unused marketplace approvals
- Double check URL + use bookmarks
- Use security browser extensions

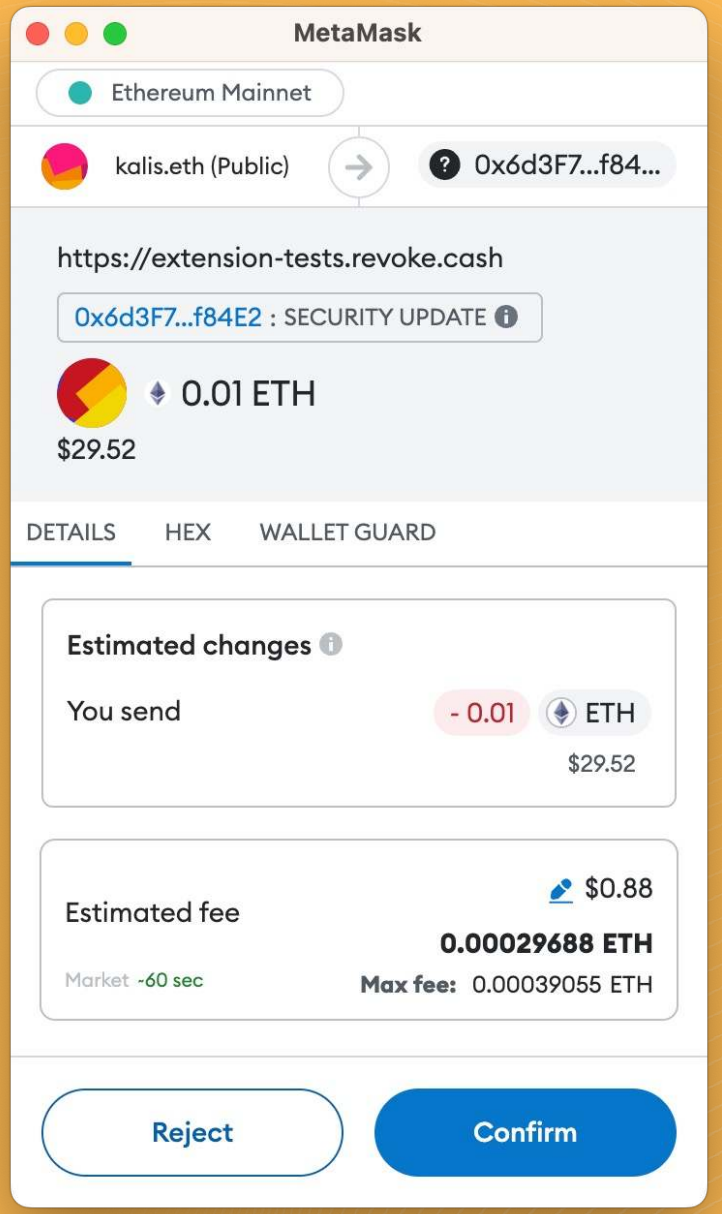

Direct Transfers

How to diagnose?

- One kind of asset stolen on a single network
- No symptoms of the other scam methods
- May have a masked name like “Claim”

Direct Transfers

What to do?

- Continue using your wallet

How to prevent?

- Double check URL + use bookmarks
- Use security browser extensions

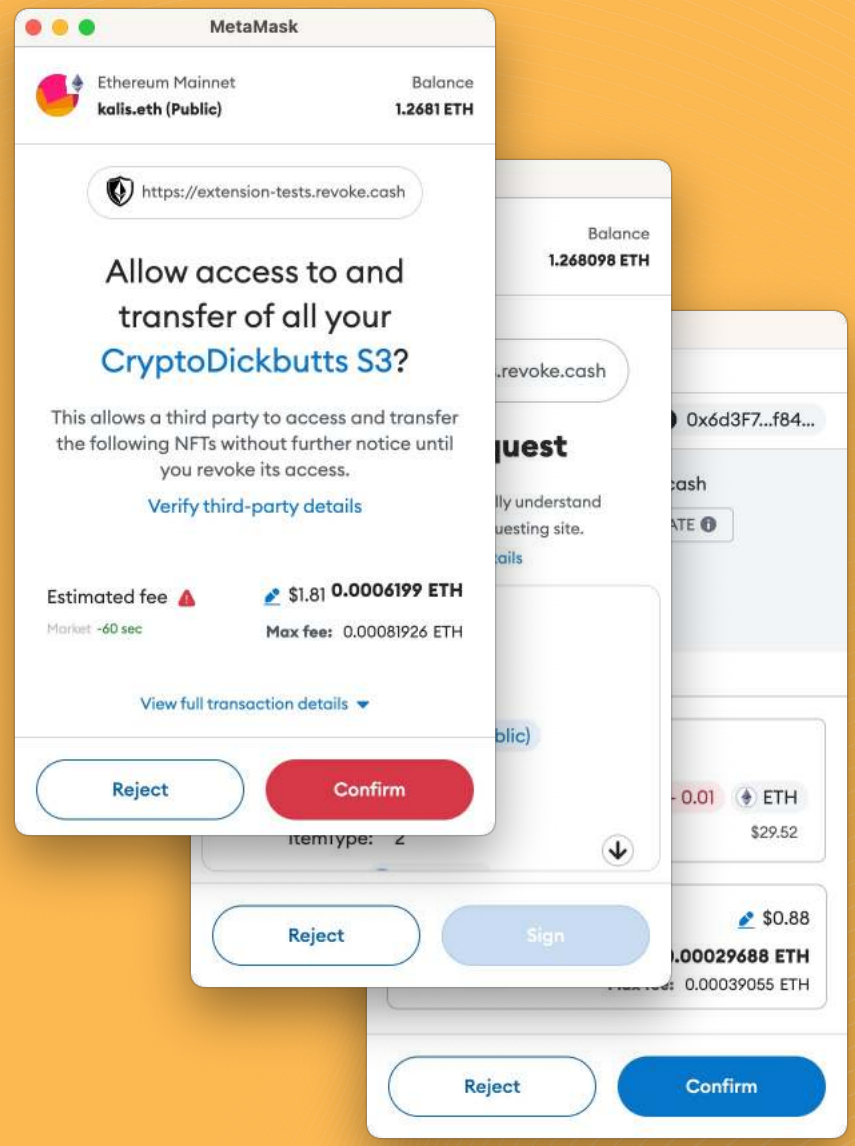

Combinations of scams

How to diagnose?

- May look like seed phrase compromise

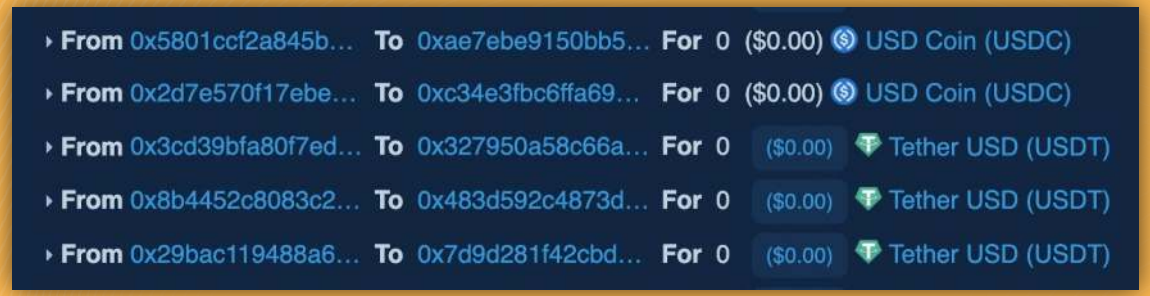

But:

- Has symptoms of other scams
- Native token stays in wallet on deposit

Other Scam Methods

Address Poisoning

Spam Tokens

Fake Approvals

WHAT WAS STOLEN?

ONLY ETH
(does not include WETH)

When you send a small amount of ETH to the wallet, does it get stolen again?

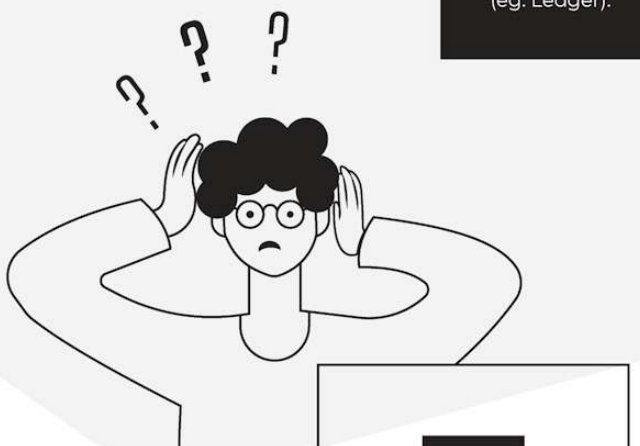

NO

Likely a one off "eth_sign" scam. You can continue using your wallet.

YES

Your "secret recovery phrase" or "private key" was stolen. There is nothing you can do about this.

You need to abandon this wallet and create a new one. It is recommended to upgrade to a hardware wallet (eg. Ledger).

BOTH ETH & TOKENS

When you send a small amount of ETH to the wallet, does it get stolen again?

YES

Your "secret recovery phrase" or "private key" was stolen. There is nothing you can do about this.

You need to abandon this wallet and create a new one. It is recommended to upgrade to a hardware wallet (eg. Ledger).

NO

Likely a combination of different scams.

Revoke allowances for the affected tokens on Revoke.cash and reach out on the Revoke.cash discord for personal advice.

ONLY TOKENS / NFTS

How many different kinds of tokens or NFTs were stolen?

ONE KIND
(e.g. only DAI or only Bored Apes)

Likely an allowance scam.

Revoke all allowances for the affected token(s) / collection(s) on Revoke.cash and continue using your wallet.

MULTIPLE KINDS
(e.g. both DAI and Bored Apes)

Were all these tokens stolen in a single transaction?

Tip: Check this on Etherscan under "ERC20 Token Txns" or ERC721 Token Txns".

MULTIPLE TRANSACTIONS

Likely an allowance scam.

Revoke all allowances for the affected token(s) / collection(s) on Revoke.cash and continue using your wallet.

ONE SINGLE TRANSACTION

Likely an OpenSea signature scam.

You can continue using your wallet.
